First, more than 10 terawatt-hours (TWh) of storage capacity is needed, and multiplying today's battery deployments by a factor of 100 would cause great stress to supply chains of rare materials like lithium, nickel and cobalt. Second, large-scale, long-duration energy storage requires extremely low costs -- significantly less than $100/kWh ...

An alternative is to store the energy electrochemically in batteries. For a long time, the cost of battery storage of renewable energy was considered prohibitive. Indeed, a decade ago, the price per kilowatt-hour (kWh) of lithium-ion battery storage was around $1,200.
