However, the nation's abundant renewable energy resources, such as solar, wind, and hydropower, present a unique opportunity to transform its energy market and pave the way for sustainable development. One of the primary reasons for São Tomé and Príncipe's reliance on fossil fuels is the lack of a robust energy infrastructure.

The market for battery energy storage is estimated to grow to $10.84bn in 2026. The fall in battery technology prices and the increasing need for grid stability are just two reasons GlobalData have predicted for this growth, with the integration of renewable power holding significant sway over the power market.
