

I don't even bother with Uranium, and thus I always have way too much of it. Here's the ship I use, since Uranium/Platinum refining always takes way too long (I run on 1/1/1/1). You get a way better thrust to weight ratio out of Hydrogen, and if you regularly visit SPRT Mayday signals in space like I do, you can get away with very rarely refuelling due to being able to drain the wreck's tanks.
